Clinical Referrals & Collaborations

A Trusted Referral Partner for Expats in Corfu and for the International Community

As a UK and US-trained therapist with an established private practice in Geneva and extensive clinical experience in premium international settings (including Clinique les Alpes and the World Health Organization), I provide specialized psychological care for international professionals, expats, and cross-cultural families.

I collaborate closely with medical professionals, private general practitioners, psychiatrists, and pediatricians to ensure seamless continuity of care for patients who prefer or require their therapeutic treatment in English, French, Spanish, or Greek.

Core Clinical Focus Areas

- Developmental Trauma & Relational Systems: Utilizing trauma-informed frameworks (including Post Induction Therapy) to address childhood trauma, codependency, and relational enmeshment.
- Addiction Recovery & Support: Providing highly confidential, discreet therapeutic support for individuals navigating substance use, behavioral dependencies, or maintaining long-term recovery.
- Expat & Relocation Psychology: Addressing the specific psychological toll of cross-border transitions, including high-functioning burnout, identity shifts, isolation, and family adjustment issues.

Practice Modalities

Languages: Full clinical fluency in English, French, Greek and Spanish.

Format: A flexible hybrid model offering discreet, private in-person sessions in Corfu side structured, secure online therapy for the international community.

Ethics: Strict adherence to UK and international clinical confidentiality and ethical boundaries.
